Congratulations on choosing the University of Tennessee as the institution for your graduate education! There are two CACREP-accredited master’s degree counseling programs within the Department of Educational Psychology and Counseling: Clinical Mental Health Counseling and School Counseling. You will find outstanding counselor educators who will be working with you to fully prepare you for the profession of school counseling. The school counseling curriculum is designed to prepare you to perform as a professional school counselor in grades preK-12.

It is up to you to take advantage of the opportunities that the program has to offer. Your classroom experiences will be enriched as you interact with students from each of the counseling and department specialty areas. This is your opportunity to take advantage of the many classroom experiences designed to help you gain the knowledge, attitude, and skills that successful, competent school counselors possess.

Description and Program Summary

The School Counseling Program focuses on the development of competencies for individuals training for the profession of school counseling in the 21st century.

The program is accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), and fulfills the licensure requirements for preK-12 school counseling in Tennessee and in most other states. The master’s program requires a minimum of 60 hours, and focuses on the development of competencies for those working in school counseling settings.

Mission Statement

The mission of the University of Tennessee Master of Science School Counselor program is to equip graduate students from diverse backgrounds with the competencies to excel as preK - 12 licensed professional school counselors in comprehensive, developmental school counseling programs.

The faculty in this flagship, land-grant institution expects our graduates to serve as leaders in the profession, to continue professional growth, and to be advocates for the students with whom they will work. Due to the rigorous standards and expectations established by the faculty, school counselor trainees will successfully complete the PRAXIS: Professional School Counselor exam and meet credentialing standards of most states as a school counselor.

The School Counseling Program at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, requires 60 semester hours, which focuses on the development of competencies for those working in school counseling settings. The Master’s Degree in School Counseling provides a program of study that prepares students for school counseling in today’s society. The Master’s program fulfills the licensure requirements for pre K - 12 school counseling in Tennessee and in most other states. More specifically, the program is designed to develop school counselor trainees’ ability to organize and provide leadership in a comprehensive, developmental school counseling program appropriate to the needs of their schools, to become competent in individual and group counseling, to develop skills for effective consultation and collaboration, and to serve as student advocates.

Program Goals

Goals for the M.S. program in School Counseling are based on Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP), American School Counselor Association
Standards (ASCA), and the Tennessee School Counseling Model and Standards Policy. Specific goals are to prepare students in:

School counselor trainees are expected to behave professionally, as described in the dispositions, both within and outside the classroom. It is the responsibility of the counselor education faculty to monitor and provide feedback to students who display characteristics that may adversely influence their effectiveness as a school counselor, and to identify strategies for rectifying these behaviors. The program faculty has identified the following personal dispositions as those that are desired by counselors for personal and professional success, and each student will be provided opportunities to self-reflect and demonstrate each of these traits. The acronym CORIS (pronounced ‘chorus’) may help you remember these dispositions.

Electives [9-12 credits]

Total = semester hours [60]

* Practicum prerequisites include admission to Program, 480, 551, 554
 Internship is taken over two semesters
 This course is a requirement for students who do not have a background in education; all others will take an additional elective

Plan of Study

In order to more effectively plan your program of study, meet with your advisor to discuss your plans for completing the program and to assist with course selection. The Plan of Study form should be completed during your first semester of enrollment and is found in Appendix A.
Memo of Understanding

As you make your course selections, consider your own personal obligations that may impact your educational and professional development. The faculty is available to provide suggestions and information to assist you in choosing your course of study, and you are required to make an appointment with your faculty advisor during the first six weeks of the program in order to plan your program of study. A statement of expectations is found in Appendix B for you to read and sign to indicate your understanding of the importance of advising and careful course selection.

Clinical Studies

Some courses within the School Counseling program require you to work in a school to fulfill course requirements. It is possible for you to use this opportunity to develop areas of interest, and to work with students and faculty in different school settings. School counseling students are to choose at least two out of three settings (e.g. elementary, middle, or high school) for the clinical experiences.

Practicum:

You must successfully complete at least one practicum course (COUN 555). Prerequisites for Practicum include the following: COUN 480, 535, 551, and 554. COUN 554 (Group Dynamics and Methods) may be taken as a co-requisite.

In order to register for Practicum, each student must be formally admitted to the department as a degree-seeking candidate and must have taken classes for at least one semester after formal acceptance into the program. An unclassified or non-degree seeking student may not register for this course. To register for Practicum, each student must complete and turn in the Practicum application during the semester prior to the term in which Practicum is desired. Applications are due October 1st and March 1st.

Preferences for Practicum sites should be compatible with your future goals and be selected in consultation with your advisor/placement coordinator. A contract for the Practicum experience is prepared and agreed upon by the site supervisor, faculty supervisors, and you. The contract identifies objectives, describes appropriate experiences for the achievement of the objectives, and outlines an evaluation plan for determining the achievement of each objective.

The Practicum requires 100 contact hours of which 40 are direct counseling experiences. This experience usually requires the student to spend the equivalent of one day per week at a school site. Direct counseling experiences are actual individual and group counseling sessions in a school setting to develop an expertise in counseling theory and strategies. Counseling sessions conducted in Practicum will be audio recorded. Signed parental/guardian consent to tape must be obtained.

Students will be supervised a minimum of one (1) hour each week by either the course instructor or a doctoral-level student who will also be under the supervision of a faculty member in addition to a class that will meet a minimum of 1-1/2 hours each week.

As part of your Practicum experiences, you will be required to complete the Fieldwork Experience for School Counseling Students (Appendix D). This is a Tennessee state required experience that helps students learn about how public schools work. The experience adds approximately 20 hours to your Practicum experience.
Each student will receive a Practicum Handbook that will assist in planning, documenting, and evaluating Practicum experiences. Students will receive a supervisor’s manual to provide to their site supervisor.

Internship:
The internship has the basic characteristics that allow you to demonstrate skill proficiencies acquired during coursework and Practicum and to acquire additional knowledge and skills most appropriately gained through supervision in appropriate school settings. The internship experience is characterized in the following manner:

1. It is offered in school settings serving children from kindergarten through high school.
2. Individual supervision and responsibility for the intern typically rests with the on-site supervisor and faculty or doctoral students in counselor education.
3. The experience is offered for academic credit.
4. The experience occurs after the successful completion of Practicum.
5. The experience is broader than the Practicum experience and allows the intern to be exposed to cases, situations, school culture, and school counseling program that are considered representative of the role and function of a professional school counselor.
6. The experience occurs on a part-time basis (20 hours per week) over two semesters.
7. On-campus coursework is reduced in proportion to the demands of the internship experience.

Preferences for internship sites should be compatible with your future goals and selected in consultation with your advisor/placement coordinator. A contract for the internship experience is prepared and agreed upon by the site supervisor, faculty supervisor, and you. The contract identifies internship objectives, describes appropriate experiences for the achievement of the objectives, and outlines an evaluation plan for determining the achievement of each objective.

In order to register for Internship, a student must be a degree candidate; unclassified students may not register for this course. In addition, all students enrolling in Internship (COUN 558) must first have completed Practicum (COUN 555). To register for internship, you must complete and turn in the internship application to the placement coordinator during the semester prior to the term in which the internship is desired. Applications are due October 1st and March 1st.

Each student will receive the Internship Handbook. This handbook will assist you in planning, documenting, and evaluating internship experiences. In addition, site supervisors will receive the Internship Handbook.

Course Loads
The maximum course load for a graduate student is 15 hours. For the summer term, graduate students may register for a maximum of 12 semester hours for an entire summer. However, it is recommended that no more than 9 credits be completed for an entire summer.

We recommend no more than 12 credit hours in any semester and recommend six to nine credit hours during your internship semesters. In addition, we recommend caution when selecting the number of credit hours for summer term. Taking too many courses during the summer makes it difficult to fully process the information you are learning.

Liability Insurance and American Counseling Association Membership

The University of Tennessee Counselor Education faculty values our identity as professional counselors and hope that all graduate students enrolled in our counseling programs (doctoral and master’s level) embrace this professional identity as well. In order to assist with identity development, we require all students to become members of the American Counseling Association (ACA) throughout their enrollment in their respective programs for the first year of study. After the first year, students may choose to belong to ACA and/or the American School Counselor Association (ASCA), which also offers insurance as a benefit of membership.

ACA offers a wide variety of services for graduate students in counseling. As stated on the ACA website, “student membership in ACA opens doors to lifelong resources and benefits, including offering career development services and access to select counseling jobs, helping develop and expand skills, providing resources for research, and offering professional networking opportunities.” In addition, publications such as the Journal of Counseling and Development and Counseling Today provide current and innovative research and information geared toward counseling practitioners. Student members also receive liability insurance for no additional cost. This insurance is a requirement for all counseling students enrolled in counseling programs at UT.

We believe that joining the American Counseling Association helps start students on a journey toward developing a professional counseling identity. Its many benefits and uses make the yearly cost worthwhile. Go to www.counseling.org and join ACA. Do this no later than the first Monday in September and provide your Program coordinator with proof of membership.

Go to http://www.schoolcounselor.org/ to join ASCA.

Fingerprinting and Drug Screening Test

Tennessee state law requires all graduate students who work in direct contact with K-12 students in schools are required to complete a fingerprinting and drug screening test every 12 months. No student will be able to begin the program without verification of completing and passing these requirements. See Appendix C for instructions.

Advisor

You will be assigned an advisor when first admitted to a program. You will receive information shortly after entering the Program regarding the person who will serve in this role.

Academic Performance

Throughout the program students are expected to demonstrate their mastery of knowledge and skills. Acquisition of knowledge may be demonstrated at a lower level where information is simply repeated, or displayed at a higher level where a greater understanding of the information is shown. Bloom’s Taxonomy is an example of various levels of cognition that will be part evaluation within classes and the comprehensive examination. A graph of the various levels of knowledge within the taxonomy is below.
Taskstream Subscription

The UT Counselor Education Programs utilize Taskstream, an assessment management system, to support student progress and meet CACREP to support student progress and meet CACREP accreditation requirements for program evaluation. Taskstream will serve as a unified home for all practicum and internship documentation, comprehensive examination results, annual progress reviews, and a few other assessments of your progress in the program.

Students must purchase and activate Taskstream accounts at the beginning of their programs of study. Throughout the program, students will be required to upload documents to Taskstream, and the program faculty will provide feedback on progress. The following chart includes a summary of ways in which you will use Taskstream throughout your program.

<td>Practicum and Internship require a great deal of documentation. All documents associated with these experiences will be housed in Taskstream. At the beginning of the semester, you will upload liability insurance, ethics pledge, and internship contracts. At midterm, you will provide a copy of your site supervisor’s evaluation, and your instructor will enter a midterm evaluation; you will repeat this process at the end of the semester. You will also upload a summary of hours earned, reflections/assignments required by your instructor, and a field placement evaluation.</td>

Enter requested details and proceed to payment.
Step 2: Self-Enroll in Your Program(s)

Login to your Taskstream account (www.taskstream.com)
Find the Self-Enrollment Area
Click “Enter Code”
Enter the code for your primary program:
  CMHC2017  Clinical Mental Health Counseling

If you are in the dual program, repeat this process using DUAL2017 as your code.
You can do this at any time during your subscription.

Using Taskstream

You should be aware of three primary terms when using Taskstream
  • Author – this is Taskstream for Student. This is YOU
  • Evaluator – this is Taskstream for faculty member or rater
  • DRF – this stands for Directed Response Folio. This is the area template you will use to submit your work. It has placeholders for nearly all program requirements.

You can use the Taskstream Quick-Start Guide for Authors and Author FAQs to learn how to upload your work and view feedback within Taskstream.

Bloom’s Taxonomy

Benjamin Bloom (2001) created this taxonomy for categorizing level of abstraction of questions that commonly occur in educational settings. The taxonomy provides a useful structure in which to categorize test questions, since professors will characteristically ask questions within particular levels, and, if you can determine the levels of questions that will appear on your exams, you will be able to study using appropriate strategies.

Grade Point Average and Grades

A cumulative grade point average of 3.0 is required on all graduate coursework taken at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville to remain in good standing and to receive a graduate degree.

Graduate course grades are primarily intended to serve as useful feedback about the quality of performance in relation to the instructor’s expectations. Unless absolutely necessary, try to avoid requesting a grade of “incomplete” in a course. Multiple “incompletes” could jeopardize continuation in the program. All too often, an assignment is delayed until it is no longer educationally meaningful and becomes difficult to complete. If unanticipated circumstances arise that necessitate an extension of the deadline, students are expected to consult with the course instructor to determine the terms for the removal of the “I”, including the time limit for removal. If the “I” is not removed within one calendar year, the grade will be changed to an F.

Academic Probation

Upon completion of nine hours of graduate coursework, a graduate student will be placed on academic probation when his/her cumulative GPA falls below 3.0. A student will be allowed to continue graduate study in subsequent semesters if each semester’s GPA is 3.0 or greater. Upon achieving a cumulative GPA of 3.0, the student will be removed from probationary status. Once placed on academic probation, and the student’s grades in the subsequent semester falls below a 3.0, the Dean of Graduate Studies will terminate the student’s status.

Evaluation and Retention of Students

In agreement with the ethical guidelines of the American Counseling Association, the Counselor Education faculty has developed the following student evaluation and retention procedures. Respecting these guidelines, the faculty considers not only academic abilities and skill performance when making retention decisions about students, but also such aspects as whether the student has appropriate levels of maturity, judgment, emotional stability, sensitivity to others, and self-awareness.

Prior to the end of each academic semester, faculty members meet in order to evaluate each student’s progress in academic work, teaching, supervision and counseling skills, and intrapersonal/interpersonal effectiveness (based on professional dispositions). Those students assessed as having difficulty will receive written and oral feedback concerning their progress from their advisor. All written feedback is placed in the student’s central file, including student responses to feedback received. Students who are identified as having deficiencies in one or more of the three areas evaluated are provided the following assistance in order to improve their performance:
1. Problem Identification Meeting (PIM)

   The advisor meets with the student and gives specific examples of the difficulties, which have been identified by the faculty. The student and the advisor then discuss minimal change expectations and procedures. A decision is made at this time as to the seriousness of the problem, and if it is recurring. Steps for resolution are recommended and both parties agree upon a time frame for remediation. A contract is written at this time and is signed by the students and the advisor, with the understanding that the faculty at their next meeting will review the student’s progress.

2. Recurring or Critical Problems

   If the situation is a continuing one, or is critical, a team of faculty members may be appointed by the program coordinator to meet with the student. The concerns are delineated in writing and given to the student prior to this meeting. During this meeting, the student is given specific information about the particular problem, the steps needed for solution, and the time frame allowed prior to determining if further action must be considered. A contract clearly stating areas which need to be improved, and the methods and time frame needed for improvement, is written and signed by the student and the involved faculty members. A copy of this agreement is given to the student and the original is placed in the student’s central file.

3. Insufficient Progress, Withdrawal, Advising

   If the student does not make expeditious progress toward resolution of the identified problem(s), and if the faculty agrees that the student will not be able to successfully achieve the academic, teaching, supervision, counseling, and/or intrapersonal/interpersonal effectiveness objectives of the program, then recommendation for withdrawal of the student from the program is considered. If this decision is made by vote of the counselor education faculty, it is then forwarded to the department head. Academic and vocational advising will be offered to the student.

4. Due Process Procedures

   Unless the problem involves a major disciplinary action, all of the preceding steps are handled by the Counselor Education faculty. The University and the program policies are written to assure students that their rights are respected and due process is followed. If a student wishes to challenge a decision of the program regarding retention in the program, the student has the right to an appeal process, as detailed in the student handbook, Hilltopics. The Counselor Education Program faculty believe that the stated procedures are in accord with the accepted educational practices and guidelines of the American Counseling Association Ethical Standards. Faculty members, through continual student evaluation and appraisal, must be aware of the personal limitations of the learner that might impede future performance. Faculty members must not only assist the learner in securing remedial assistance but also screen from the program those individuals who are unable to provide competent services.

Appeals Procedure

Normally, grievances are handled at the departmental level through the student’s academic advisor or the department or program head. Further appeal may be made to the dean of the respective college, the Dean of Graduate Studies, the Graduate Council, and ultimately to the Chancellor.

The Graduate Council hears appeals concerning the interpretation of and adherence to university, college and department policies and procedures. The Council does not review grievances concerning grades, which are reviewed at the department or college level. Grades are appealed first to the faculty member and then, if necessary to the department head and dean of the college.

Admission to Candidacy

All students will need to obtain an Admission to Candidacy form in the semester prior to anticipated graduation.

Admission to candidacy indicates that the student has demonstrated ability to do acceptable graduate work and that satisfactory progress has been made toward a degree. The student’s committee must sign the Admission to Candidacy form and all courses to be used for the degree must be listed, including transfer coursework. The student must submit this form to the Office of the University Registrar no later than the last day of classes of the semester preceding the semester in which he/she plans to graduate. The Admission to Candidacy form can be downloaded at: http://web.utk.edu/~gsinfo/acforms.htm

A checklist for counseling students is in Appendix E To be certain that all of the requirements for the degree have been accomplished.

Selection of a Faculty Committee

M.S. students must select a committee of three faculty members to sign off on their graduation paperwork. All School Counseling students have the following committee members: Dr. Pamelia E. Brott, Major Professor; Dr. Laura Wheat; and Dr. Melinda Gibbons. Please make sure that your graduation application is signed by these three faculty members.

Culminating Requirements

Upon graduating from the program, each student is required to take a comprehensive final examination over the entire curriculum.

Policy for Comprehensive Examinations

Every school counseling and mental health counseling student must take a proctored examination prior to graduation. The exams cover all core curricular areas. Therefore, students need to complete core courses prior to or during the academic year semester of their comprehensive exams. The following information outlines the comprehensive examination policy.

- All students must complete an application form for the exam the semester prior to their final semester of classes.
- Students must be in their last semester of classes in order to take the comprehensive examination.
- The master’s examination is a proctored examination.
- All mental health students and school counseling students take the same examination.
- Comprehensive examination scores are Fail or Pass.
- According to the Graduate Catalogue, “In case of failure, the candidate may not apply for reexamination until the following semester. The results of the second examination are final.” (http://diglib.lib.utk.edu/dlc/catalog/index.html). To be eligible to retake the comprehensive examination, students must register for COUN 502 during the semester the comprehensive is retaken.
• Each semester the faculty meets with interested students to discuss the comprehensive examination and to provide guidelines on how to study for the examination.
• The master’s comprehensive exam will be administered in two parts.

Part 1: Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) is a standardized examination administered by the Center for Credentialing & Education. This is a computerized examination used by over 400 counseling programs across the country. It will provide the program – and you – immediate feedback regarding your performance in the eight CACREP core areas:

- Professional counseling orientation and ethical practice
- Social and cultural diversity
- Human growth and development
- Career development
- Counseling and helping relationships
- Group counseling and group work
- Assessment and testing
- Research and program evaluation

Coincidentally, this examination is written by the same company that offers the NCE; both the CPCE and the NCE cover the same eight core areas. The cost of the CPCE is $75.

Part 2: The afternoon following the CPCE, you will have up to two hours to write one locally-developed essay question. The question will be designed to help you demonstrate integration of knowledge with attention to counseling setting, demonstrate professional and clinical writing skills, demonstrate ability to conceptualize key issues in counseling relationships, and demonstrate understanding of counselors’ roles within systemic context of schools and community agencies. The question will be based on a current issue and case/scenario.

Scoring

The CPCE is an objective examination. To pass the CPCE

- students must score no lower than one standard deviation below the mean of the CACREP-accredited norm group
- students must pass at least 6 of 8 core area plus the total score

The essay will be blind-reviewed by three faculty members who use a standardized program rubric. Students pass this section with majority (at least 2 of 3) ratings of pass on the rubric.

Admission to Candidacy

1. Students must pass both Part I and Part II to be admitted to candidacy
2. Students who do not meet passing cut-point on Part I must work with advisor and examination chair to develop a paper or project in which they demonstrate proficiency in CACREP standards related to the area(s) of concern. Students who do not receive at least 2 (of 3) holistic passes on Part II must work with advisor and examination chair to (1) rewrite response/s to satisfactory level and (2) develop a paper or project in which they demonstrate proficiency in CACREP standards related to the area(s) of concern as indicated on rubric ratings.
3. Students will present remediation paper and/or project to an examination committee and, if committee indicates approval to proceed, meet with committee for an oral defense of Part I and/or II.

4. Students who do not receive committee approval to move forward with written papers/projects OR who do not pass oral defense must register for at least one credit of COUN 502 Use of Facilities to allow time for mentored study in preparation for a second attempt at the entire examination.

5. Students have two opportunities to pass the examination. Students who are unable to pass both Parts I and II by the second attempt will be dismissed from the program.

Praxis: Professional School Counselor Examination

In order to receive licensure as a school counselor in the state of Tennessee, students must take and satisfactorily complete the Praxis examination. Apply on-line at http://www.ets.org/praxis

The National Counseling Examination (NCE)

Students may choose to take the NCE, a national examination used by the National Board of Certified Counselors. The purpose of the examination is to assess knowledge, skills, and abilities for providing counseling services. However, this is not a program requirement.

Policy on Endorsements

The faculty of the School Counseling program adheres to a policy of formal endorsement of students completing programs for professional credentials who have met the following conditions.

1. Duly admitted to the Graduate School and the department.
2. Evidence of demonstrated proficiency in the credentialing area for which the endorsement is sought.
3. Completion of the appropriate coursework for the desired credential.
5. Completed form from the licensure office located at BEC 332

Professional Organizations

Students are encouraged to apply for student memberships in the appropriate professional groups for their field of study. Students are required to join the American Counseling Association (ACA) during the 1st year of study, and both ACA and American School Counselor Association (ASCA) are recommended during the 2nd year in the program.

In addition, the Tennessee Counseling Association (TCA), the Tennessee School Counselor Association (TSCA), and the Smoky Mountain Counseling Association (SMCA) are state and regional counseling associations that you are encouraged to join.

Chi Sigma Iota (CSI), Upsilon Theta Chapter, is an honorary counseling society for students. Membership entails opportunities for grants and scholarships. To join students must have been accepted into a counseling program at the University of Tennessee, have a 3.5 GPA, and completed one semester of coursework. Grants and scholarships are available through this organization.
Diversity Policy

The Counselor Education program at the University of Tennessee adheres to the policy of recruiting students representing a wide diversity of cultures. The Department works with the University’s International House’s Center for International Education and the Black Cultural Center in recruiting students. Our students often work as assistants within these two centers. Our website also helps our diversity recruitment by making program information available internationally.

Fellowships

Each year two/three fellowships are available for school counseling students. The faculty nominates current students who have shown outstanding achievement, or students who are entering the program who have previously demonstrated potential through achievements. The scholarships are:

- Charles Lowell Thompson Fellowship: $1000.00 (alternating years)
- Helen Carter Murray Fellowship: $500.00 (amount varies)
- Eugene & Mary Sue Akin Fellowship: $500.00 (amount varies)

Other Sources of Information

You will have a folder of Program and departmental information in which mail, announcements, and other documents are placed. Your folder is located in the administrative support office, 421 Claxton Complex.

The bulletin boards within the hallway outside the department and faculty offices are invaluable sources of information as to workshops, publications, meetings, course offerings, and employment opportunities.

Memo of Program Expectations

The school counseling faculty is committed to providing quality training and opportunities to facilitate your growth in becoming an excellent professional. The courses in the curriculum are to be taken with thoughtful, purposeful reflection and application while you are a student in the program. Therefore, it is our recommendation that you limit the number of classes you take each semester, particularly during the clinical experiences of practicum and internship. We realize that life events are difficult to anticipate, and we recognize that course selections may need to be altered due to potential situations that may occur.

As you make your course selections, consider your own personal obligations that may impact your educational and professional development. The faculty is available to provide suggestions and information to assist you in choosing your course of study, and you are required to make an appointment with your faculty advisor during the first six weeks of the program in order to plan your program of study. If you decide to make changes in your program, we hope that you will do so carefully and after discussing your options with your program advisor.

As part of your 60-credit hour master’s degree, you are required to successfully complete one semester of practicum (spring) and two semesters of internship (fall, spring) in a school setting. These experiences must occur in two of the three settings (i.e., elementary school, middle school, high school).

Furthermore, school counselor trainees are expected to behave professionally both within and outside the classroom. It is the responsibility of the counselor education faculty to monitor and provide feedback to students who display characteristics that may adversely influence their effectiveness as a school counselor, and to identify strategies for rectifying these behaviors. The program faculty has identified the following personal dispositions (CORIS) as those that are desired by counselors for personal and professional success, and each student will be provided opportunities to self-reflect and demonstrate each of these traits.

Commitment
- Investment
- Counselor identity
- Advocacy
- Professional excellence
- Civic engagement
- Scholar/practitioner
- Collaboration
- Interpersonal competence

Openness
- Openness to ideas, learning, and change
- Openness to give and receive feedback
- Openness to growth
- Self-development
- Openness to others
- Understand micro/macro perspective
- Interpersonal communication

Respect
- Perceives and honors diversity
- Self-care
- Wellness

Integrity
- Personal responsibility
- Personal integrity
- Courage
- Congruence

Self-awareness
- Integrity
- Humility
- Self-reflection/exploration
- Place in History
- Personal maturity
- Honesty

I understand the importance of making course selections that will provide the opportunity to apply and understand how classroom constructs integrate with theoretical constructs and authentic experiences. In addition, I am aware of the importance of displaying dispositions and understand that part of my educational experience will be to display the dispositions that have been identified in the program.

I am aware that I am responsible for making an appointment with my program advisor within the first six weeks of the fall semester to plan my program of study.
