Educational Psychology & Counseling Department

EPC offers undergraduate service courses and graduate degrees related to teaching, learning, and counseling across the lifespan. Nationally and internationally distinguished scholars focus on investigating psychological and educational aspects of individual and collaborative learning, research, cultural studies, technology, and counseling. The dynamic interaction among students and faculty across programs provides an exciting, interdisciplinary atmosphere for course and field study leading to research and scholarship. Please visit our website for more information! epc.utk.edu
